TOM QUINN AT WHEEL AS CAR KILLS CHILD

Libby Naleo, 11-Year-Old Hawaiian, Victim of Automobile Early Last Evening

DRIVER SAYS HE MADE AN EFFORT TO MISS CHILDREN

Sheriff and Deputy Not Informed of Fatality Near Waipahu Until Late Today

Libby Naleo, a 11-year-old Hawaiian girl, assisting in drawing a small wagon along the government highway at a point about one-half mile on the city side of Waipahu, was run down and instantly killed by automobile number 223, driven by Tom Quinn the chauffeur, about 5 o'clock last evening.

The girl with two companions were proceeding in the middle of the road way as the machine containing Quinn and two passengers came up in the rear.

"I saw the children several hundred feet ahead of me and repeatedly sounded my horn," declared Quinn in a statement made to a Star-Bulletin representative this morning.

"I was returning from Waipahu where I had carried J. W. Weinberg to the plantation camp. The section of the road where the accident occurred was slightly down grade though it followed a pretty straight line. My car was going at a rate of between eighteen and twenty miles an hour, and as I approached the children, kept up a continued sounding of horn or siren. When within a few feet of the party, the children apparently realized their approaching peril and two proceeded to the right hand side of the road, while the girl then met death, deliberately crossed in front of the car.

"I stopped the machine within a short distance, and found the girl lying in the middle of the road about 10 feet behind the rear wheels. She was struck by the right lamp, thrown to the ground, one and perhaps two wheels passing over the body.

"Picking up the lifeless form of the child, we hurried back to Waipahu. Dr. Robert J. McGottigan, physician for the Oahu Sugar Company at Waipahu, examining the body. A brief examination of the child satisfied the physician that death had resulted almost instantly.

Quinn stated today that he then proceeded to the home of Deputy Sheriff John Fernandez of Ewa district. Bringing this official to the scene of the fatality, the deputy sheriff immediately summoned a jury of six men, who viewed the location, noted the appearance of the child, took statements from the driver and the passengers, and interviewed spectators to the accident.

THREE GRADUATED BY KINDERGARTEN TRAINING SCHOOL

Progressive Work of Organization Emphasized in Address By Miss Lawrence

The final meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association for the year was held this morning at the Library of Hawaii.

Three graduates, Mrs. Julia C. Smith, Miss Mary E. von Holt, Miss Mary L. Lucas, were awarded diplomas for the successful completion of the regular two years' kindergarten training course. The director of the training school, Miss Frances Lawrence, in her address to the association and the graduates, voiced the growth and spirit of the modern method of educating little children. In summing up her remarks she said: "The kindergarten of today is built upon the Froebelian system modified by modern child study and psychology."

In closing, the graduates were urged to keep alive their interest in progressive methods, in research and in the best thought of the day on all live subjects.

Mrs. W. R. Farrington, president of the association, then presented the diploma. The kindergartens will close June 26, to reopen September 14. The association's steadily broadening work is handicapped by lack of funds and in order for it to continue its usefulness, some method must be found for getting additional income. It is hoped that some donations to the work of the organization will be made in the near future.

Ad Club Delegates Will Boost Hawaii

Two Leave Tomorrow for Big Convention in Toronto and Will Do Promotion Work

Hawaii, its industries, people and natural charms will be given unique and effective advertising this summer through the medium of the Honolulu Ad Club and the club's delegates to the coming convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America. Charles R. Frazier, delegate at large from the club, and I. H. Beattie, as delegate, will leave on the Sierra tomorrow on their way to Toronto, Canada, where the big convention will meet from June 20 to June 27. At Toronto business men and advertising experts from all over the world will meet to discuss various features and problems connected with the trade.

The delegates from the Honolulu Ad Club are preparing to do some vigorous boosting on behalf of Hawaii. One hundred dollars has been appropriated by the club to go toward the expenses of the delegates, but both have announced that this will be used in a display to advertise Hawaii and Honolulu and spread the name and fame of the Honolulu Ad Club. They are working in conjunction with the Promotion Committee and expect to give the hundreds of delegates some vivid ideas about this territory and its attractions. One of the activities of the delegates will be the distribution of leis and it is probable that they will have pineapple juice served to the thirsty ad men, here assembled.

The Toronto convention will be given wide publicity. A $2,500,000 set of buildings is at the disposal of the convention for its various meetings. Mr. Wilfrid Laurier, former premier of the Dominion, and Secretary Bryan will be among the speakers. Scores of visitors and delegates are coming from England and the European continent. Even from far-distant points in the Orient visitors are expected. President Farrington of the Ad Club has received a letter from Louis D. Fay, chairman of the committee on speakers, delegates, in which Mr. Fay says that the visitors from the far east are coming through Honolulu.

URGE MORE TAX ON GRAZING AND IDLE LAND HERE

Republicans of Second Precinct, Fourth District, Adopt Convention Resolution

Adopting a resolution urging that the rate of all taxes on idle or grazing land in the territory be increased 20 per cent, the Republican club of the second precinct, fourth district, last night pledged its candidates for delegate to the coming convention to work for the insertion of such a plank on the Republican platform.

The resolution was introduced by R. S. Kelly and passed unanimously, according to report today. Considerable discussion preceded it. Those who favored the resolution point out that some of the uncultivated land in Hawaii should either pay more taxes or be opened to small holdings.

About ten attended the meeting.

Ross is Not Named as Successor to John A. Kealoha

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless]
HILO, June 5.—Supervisor David Ewaliko, who was scheduled to introduce the name of John M. Ross of Hakalau as successor to former supervisor John A. Kealoha, failed to make a move at this morning's session of the board.

It is possible that Ewaliko may introduce a resolution at this afternoon's session, favorable to Ross. However, it is necessary that action be taken promptly as the session of today concludes the meeting of the supervisors. The Hawaii Herald is opposed to the naming of Ross to succeed Kealoha.

M. S. KIM HAS HARD TIME IN BEATING JAIL

Korean Charged With High Finance in Toils but Again Released on Bonds of $250

M. S. Kim, thrice convicted of offenses against the territory, who some days ago was sentenced to one year at the city and county prison upon a charge of gross cheat, but who had been released on bail pending the hearing of the case at a higher court, is again in the toils, a similar charge having been preferred against Kim this morning.

It is alleged that the Korean in leaving the court room following his last conviction, proceeded to Waikiki and later visited the home of J. A. Bortfeld, a chicken fancier. The story, related to Captain of Detectives McEluffe, is that Kim entered into a contract with Mr. Bortfeld for $500 worth of poultry. The arrangement proved satisfactory to Bortfeld, who states that he was tendered a check for $500 on a local bank, with the understanding that the paper would not be presented before the following day. Kim is then said to have related a tale of hard luck in that he had hoped to collect $250 alleged as due him from an officer stationed at Fort Ruger.

Returning to Bortfeld's place an hour later the Korean said that he had not met with success in raising the money and suggested that Bortfeld let him have $50, taking his check for the additional amount. The money was forthcoming and Kim departed.

When the checks were tendered at the local bank it was discovered that they were not backed by sufficient funds. Kim was represented by Attorney Quinn, who succeeded in securing the release of his client upon a bond of $250.

The case may come up for a preliminary hearing on next Monday morning.

Y. M. C. A.'S TO OBSERVE 70TH ANNIVERSARY

London Dry Goods Clerk Given Credit for Being Responsible for Giant Organization

JAPANESE MAKE PLANS TO OBSERVE THE DAY

From Small Beginning in English City Institution Has Become World Wide

Young Men's Christian Associations all over the world tomorrow will celebrate the 70th anniversary of the founding of the organization. It was George Williams, a dry goods clerk in London, who gathered around him a group of friends who organized a little club from which has grown the association which plays such an important part in the social, spiritual and moral life of communities in every corner of the globe. No special observance of the day will be made by the Honolulu central association, but the members of the Japanese branch will gather at their building this evening for brief services and a musical and literary program.

The establishment of the Young Men's Christian Association was occasioned by the growth of the modern city. The city government which has spread throughout the more industrial parts of the world created an environment which made necessary special effort in behalf of young men. Without the rise of the city, the parlor, gymnasium, reading rooms, educational classes, Bible studies, religious meetings, this vast organization of more than 700,000 young men, with its secretaries, directors, committees, costly buildings, and mighty influence would never have been born.

The association movement was founded by a young man who came from men living away from home in cities. Without the spread of the city it would have remained a London institution, and never would have become a world-wide organization. Young men form the largest and most important element of the large army which is annually invading the city from the country.

The proportion of young men in the city is much larger than in rural districts. In the city the home and the church have a smaller place in the life of the average young man than in the country. Contrasted with the country, where life is in the open air and activity is chiefly muscular, life in the city is indoors, and far more full of nervous excitement. It should also be said that the city has brought young men together in large numbers, and so made possible an organization among themselves in their own behalf. The history of the association falls into three periods: 1844 to 1855, the founding of the association; 1855 to 1878, the development of association methods; 1878 to the present time, the wide extension of the movement.

Prominent Japanese of Honolulu to the number of nearly 100 gathered at the Mochizuki Club, Waikiki, last night, to attend a banquet given by S. Ichijima, retiring manager of The Macfarlane Company, in honor of K. Moriama, the new manager.

The Nippon Jiji, the local Japanese daily newspaper, is conducting an essay contest which is open to all residents of Honolulu. The subject for the essay is, "The Prosperity of Japanese in Hawaii," and prizes of $20, $10 and $5 will be awarded the three persons contributing the best articles.

CHANGE IN THE ARMY UNIFORM IS SUGGESTED

Helmet to Replace Cap for Garrison Wear and White Uniform on Pass

DISCIPLINARY COMPANY SUGGESTED FOR ISLAND

Prisoners from the Philippines Might Be Used Here to Good Advantage

Improved conditions for the enlisted men of the army stationed on Oahu are in immediate prospect, if strong recommendations of the "higher ups" of the department count for anything. The word is being passed that Major General William H. Carter, whose long record in the army points always to intelligent consideration for the rank and file, and Brigadier General Clarence Edwards, commanding the 1st Hawaiian brigade, are both in favor of radical changes in the existing system. It is said that the matter of uniform is being given serious consideration, and that another effort will be made to provide enlisted men with suitable clothing to wear on pass, when their military duties are temporarily suspended. Also that the garrison uniform will be modified to conform with local conditions.

There seems to be a strong probability that the cap, now required for garrison wear, will be done away with, and the helmet substituted. The cap is not suitable for tropical, or semi-tropical, countries, and except with the white dress uniform, it may be done away with. An olive drab helmet, providing protection for the back of the neck, and proper shade

PREPARE PLANS FOR ADDITIONAL HELP FOR P. O.

Postmaster Young Preparing to Outline Plan for Securing Higher Efficiency

"The local postoffice will waste no time in asking the department at Washington to grant an additional clerk for the San Francisco service, and an additional clerk and two additional carriers for the Honolulu service," said Postmaster William F. Young this morning while conferring upon his proposed policy of increasing the efficiency of the local department as in the Star-Bulletin yesterday.

The superintendent of mails this morning commenced work on the preparation of a map of Honolulu showing the several carrier routes, this map to be forwarded to the department in Washington to show just where the additional carriers are needed. Postmaster Young states that as soon as the additional carriers are secured, it probably will mean the establishment of a later evening collection.

Assistant Postmaster Joseph Kubey has given out the information that the installation of 228 new postoffice lock boxes has been completed and are now ready for use by the public.
